VOTE EXPECTED ON ARMED SHIP ISSUE IN HOUSE TUESDAY

INFLUENCE OF BRYAN, WHO FAVORS WARNING RESOLUTION, MAY BE FELT IN FIGHT OVER QUESTION OF STANDING BY THE PRESIDENT IN CONTROVERSY.

RULES COMMITTEES MEET TODAY

Administration Leaders Confident the Proposition to Table McLeone Resolution Will Be Carried by Good Majority—No Further Action Anticipated in the Senate.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, March 5.—The influence of William Jennings Bryan will be felt in the fight over the armed ship issue, which administration leaders plan to bring to a vote in the house Tuesday.

Mr. Bryan, who outlined his views in favor of warning Americans off armed merchantmen yesterday to Representative Bailey of Pennsylvania at a hotel within a stone's throw of the capitol and in which eight congressmen make their homes.

He will be there while the house rules committee is framing its rule to bring before the house for action after limited debate the report of the foreign affairs committee recommending that the McLeone warning resolutions be tabled, and setting forth that the president should be permitted to exercise his constitutional right of handling diplomatic negotiations without interference from congress.

Mr. Bryan has declared that he would not participate actively in the controversy, and his closest friends here say he has no intention of changing his mind. His views are well known, however, and they are being repeated industriously to members of the house. He leaves Washington tomorrow night again for Wilmington, Del., to deliver a speech.

Bryan Plain-Spoken.

Although Mr. Bailey insisted today that no significance should be attached to the luncheon engagement, it was discussed everywhere with great interest. Among the members who live at the hotel are Speaker Clark and Representative Shuck, the unofficial leader of the warning resolution advocates in the house.

"Mr. Bryan is very plain-spoken about his views on the warning resolution," said Representative Stephens today. "But he will not start an open fight. At his request I introduced a resolution at the opening of congress to warn Americans off ships, and he still stands for it. Why should we beat the devil about the bush on this proposition? It is weak-kneed to try to dodge the real issue. The proposed vote on the McLeone proposition is not what the president wants; nor is it what we friends of a warning resolution want, so why should we vote on it?"

Tomorrow, Mr. Stephens will communicate Mr. Bryan's views to Majority Leader Kitchin.

Kitchin Wants Straight Vote.

Although Mr. Kitchin strongly favors the straight warning vote plan, doubt is expressed that he will oppose the administration program on the floor in case of favorable action on it by the rules committee. It frankly has shown no disposition thus far to entertain his suggestion favorably. If he cannot obtain the substitution of a straight vote resolution, Mr. Kitchin probably will vote to table the McLeone resolution on the ground that its form is bad.

Administration leaders are hopeful that the agitation for change in plan will disappear without much further discussion in the rules committee. House pilots of the tabling program today said they were assured of a full democratic vote in the rules committee and a substantial rallying to colors today in the president's congressional campaign. Many representatives who on Saturday pleaded for time in the hope that they never would have to vote on the question fell in line when they heard that the president had made a final demand for a vote to acting Chairman Poy of the rules committee last night. Sixty of the democrats, however, for the week-end, telegraphed they would return and support the president.

Unless there should arise unusual developments in the diplomatic negotiations with Germany or some American citizen should lose his life as a result of a submarine attack, no further action on the armed ship issue is looked for in the senate. That there will be further debate on the subject is certain, however, Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee and one of the principal proponents of the desirability of an official warning to Americans to keep off armed belligerent ships, has prepared a long address on the whole subject of the position of the United States as

LEAVES AT ONCE FOR WASH.

When Asked if Will Make National Capital Residence, Reply is That His Home Is and Will Continue to Be in Texas—No Comment Made on Result of Mission.

By the Associated Press.

New York, March 5.—Col. E. M. House, who sailed for Europe on December 28 on a confidential mission for President Wilson, arrived here today on the steamship Rotterdam from Falmouth. As soon as he landed from a special coast guard cutter which met the Rotterdam at quarantine, Colonel House announced he would leave at once for Washington to meet the president.

He declined to comment on his mission or what he had seen or done while abroad, reiterating the statement he had made prior to leaving here in December that his mission was to convey to some of the American ambassadors information having to do with international questions that could not be supplied them by cable or letter.

Asked if he had noticed any marked change in the attitude of Europe toward the United States since his previous trip, Colonel House said:

"Reports of an unfavorable attitude toward the United States by the people of Europe are exaggerated. At least, I heard no criticism in any of the countries I visited. I will say also that we should remember that the people of the belligerent nations are living with their nerves on edge, and we should make allowances accordingly."

He added that everywhere he went he was treated with every courtesy and consideration.

To a question as to whether he intended making Washington his home during the remainder of the Wilson administration, Colonel House replied: "While I am often in Washington, I have no intention of making it my residence, either temporarily or permanently. My home is and will continue to be in Texas, for my interests, my friends, and lifetime associations are there."

He stated that press dispatches had covered every phase of his movements while abroad.

On the voyage across, Colonel House worked diligently in his cabin, sitting down for the guidance of President Wilson the mass of information he had obtained on his visit to the capitals of Europe. He was seldom seen except when exercising on the deck, either alone or in the company of Mrs. House or his secretary.

On orders from Washington, Collector of the Port Dudley Field Malone met Colonel House at quarantine with a special customs cutter from which newspapermen and photographers were excluded. Taken from the Rotterdam even before she had been boarded by the health officers, Colonel House and Mrs. House were carried by the cutter up East river to Twenty-third street, where they were met by an automobile. Hand driven to the home of their son-in-law, Gordon Auchincloss, where Mr. House remained a short time before taking a train for Washington at 4 o'clock.

APPARENT EFFORT TO BLOW UP CHURCH AT BOSTON FOILED

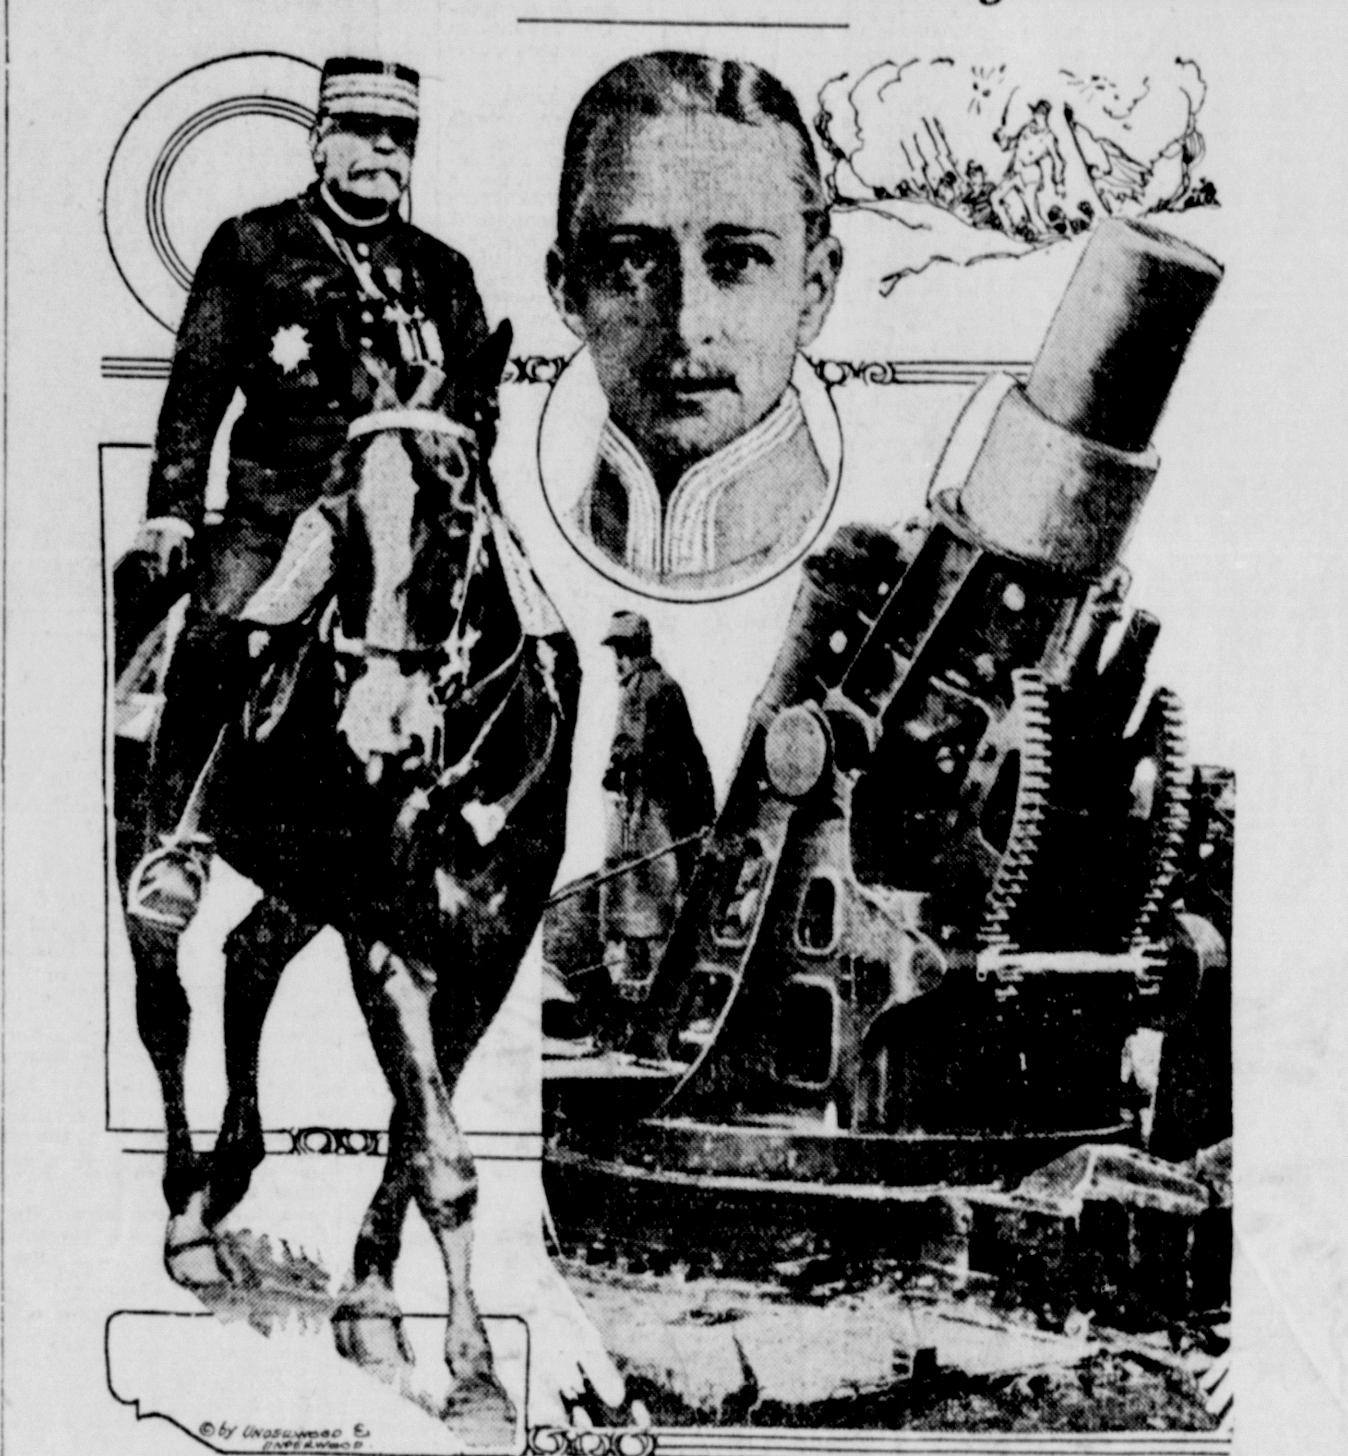

By the Associated Press.

Boston, March 5.—Three men, armed with revolvers and carrying dynamite, percussion caps, fuses and blasting powder, were arrested on a shed roof adjoining St. Mary's Catholic church in the North End district after a sharp struggle today.

They refused to tell what their purpose was or why they were hiding near the church. They were held in bond of $20,000 each on charges of breaking into the possession of the church, and entering, having burglar's tools in their possession, and assault upon an officer. Later they were identified through records in the rogues' gallery as John Costa of Cleveland, Ohio, and John Denault and Rosario Conti of Philadelphia.

Police inspectors were much interested in the resemblance between Costa and Jean Cranes, who is wanted in Chicago on a charge of putting poison in food served to churchmen and other guests at a banquet. The police expressed the opinion that the men intended to rob the safe in the basement of the church. They carried enough explosives, the officers said, to blow up half the edifice.

MORE NUNS FORCED TO LEAVE MEXICO

PARTY REACHING NEW YORK SAY PROPERTY AT MORELOS WAS CONFISCATED.

Reports of Typhus Epidemic Confirmed, Although Almost Under Control at Present.

By the Associated Press.

New York, March 5.—A party of thirty nuns, members of the Order of Salesians, who said their church and convent property at Morelos, Mex., valued at $250,000, had been confiscated by the Carranza government, arrived here today on the steamship Antonio Lopez from Mexican ports.

The members of the party, in charge of the Mother Superior, Francescine Chacony Antequera, are on their way to Spain. They said they had been forbidden to work longer in Mexico.

"Our convent, where for more than twelve years we had been educating children of the pious, was closed early in December," one of the nuns said. "We were accused of being in sympathy with General Carranza's enemies and we were evidently convicted. At any rate, we were told to leave, being allowed to take with us only our personal property."

"Friends of our order in Vera Cruz and other Mexican cities gave us shelter until the ship sailed. We were not subjected to any indignities, but it is sad to leave our work and the hundreds of children whom we have learned to love. Friends in Spain have paid our passage from Mexico to Madrid."

Reports of an epidemic of typhus in Mexico were confirmed by members of the party and by other passengers. It was said, however, that a systematic cleaning up of the towns and widespread sanitation work, mainly under the direction of American doctors, was rapidly stamping out the disease and that the epidemic would be under control inside of two months.

Packing Plants in East St. Louis Raise Wages of Employees

By the Associated Press.

East St. Louis, Ill., March 5.—Five thousand employees of Armour's, Swift's and Morris' packing plants in East St. Louis have received an unsolicited increase in wages. The payrolls of the three concerns will be raised about $3,000 a week. The new schedule was dated to become effective February 28, but was not put into effect until today.

The increase was the first in eighteen years granted to the skilled workers in the plants. A strike for higher wages twelve years ago was unsuccessful. The plants are run on an "open shop" basis.

Appeal Made for Irish Freedom

By the Associated Press.

New York, March 5.—Resolutions termed an "Irish declaration of independence," appealing for the recognition of Ireland as a nation by the powers of the world and demanding that Americans be warned not to travel on ships carrying contraband, were adopted today by the Friends of Irish Freedom, a national organization formed here yesterday as an outgrowth of a conference to define the issue which is contended Irishmen in this country should assume toward Great Britain.

"England has for years worked openly and secretly to rewrite our history," the resolutions also declared. "Never more strongly than at the present moment has she been prepared for armed conflict against the United States whenever the moment for armed action shall seem to her to have arrived."

"We call upon the president and congress of the United States to do what is necessary to place the American flag, both on the navy and merchant marine, in a position of equality with the flags of other nations upon the seven seas."

Victor Herbert was chosen president in place of Justice John W. Goff, who declined to serve because of his advanced age.

LOD NORTHCEIFFE WRITES ON VERDUN

GREAT LONDON EDITOR DOESN'T THINK CONFLICT HAS ARRIVED AT CLIMAX.

German Deserters Before Attacks Gave Valuable Information, Is Claim.

By the Associated Press.

London, March 5.—An account of the present situation around Verdun, written by Lord Northcliffe, is published in the Times today. The writer believes the conflict here has not yet reached the climax of intensity and that the Germans will face even greater losses and resort to new expedients before accepting repulse. Nevertheless, Lord Northcliffe's viewpoint is optimistic. He dilates on the slightness of the French losses, as compared with those of the Germans. The German losses he estimates at 100,000 men.

The following are some of the striking passages: "What are the secret motives underlying the German attempt to break the French line at Verdun, in which the crown prince's army is incurring such appalling losses? Is it financial, in view of the coming war loan? Is it dynastic, or is it intended to influence doubting neutrals?"

"From the evidence of German deserters it is known that the attack was originally intended to take place a month or two hence, when the ground was dry. Premature spring rains caused the Germans to accelerate their plans. There were two final delays owing to bad weather and then came the colossal onslaught of February 21."

"The Germans made a good many of the faults the British made at Gallipoli. They announced that something large was pending, by closing the Swiss frontier. The French were fully warned by their own astute intelligence department. Their aeroplanes were not idle and if confirmation were needed it was given by deserters who, surmising the horrors to come, crept out of the trenches at night and lay down by the edge of the Meuse until morning and then gave themselves up, together with information that has since proved accurate."

"Things went wrong with the Germans in other ways. A Zeppelin that was to have blown up important railway junctions on the French line of communication was brought down at Revigne. Then the gigantic effort of February 21 was frustrated by the coolness and tenacity of the French soldiers and the deadly curtain of fire of their guns."

Austrian Would Give Nobel Peace Prize to William J. Bryan

By the Associated Press.

Zurich, Switzerland, via London, March 5.—Dr. Alois Hellinger, a prominent member of the Austrian parliament, has addressed a letter to the Nobel committee at Stockholm recommending that Nobel peace prize for 1916 be awarded to William J. Bryan for his endeavors to stop American export of munitions, which, Dr. Hellinger writes, would have already ended the war and brought about peace negotiations under the powerful eagle of America.

DOUAUMONT VILLAGE IS SCENE OF MOST DESPERATE FIGHTING

FURIOUS ATTACK ON VAUX FAILS

Teutons Using Burning Liquid Projectors in Assaults and Some of Defenders Have Been Burned to a Crisp. General Petain's Strategy Seeming to Bring Results.

By the Associated Press.

Paris, March 5, 12:30 p. m. It is stated semi-officially that the battle at Verdun continued throughout yesterday with the same intensity and without causing any change in the respective positions of the opposing armies. Fighting is still going on for definite possession of the village of Douaumont.

The situation as a result of this second phase of the German offensive, is regarded as altogether different from that of the first days of the battle. The only progress made by the Germans was during the first two days of the second attack. For the last forty-eight hours they have not advanced.

The comparison also is in favor of the French by reason of the fact that the Germans now have lost the advantage of surprise, and also because the ground has been torn up to such an extent that it cannot be organized properly.

This information from semi-official sources points out that it must be demoralizing to the Germans to see some 40,000 to 50,000 corpses of their comrades lying before the French lines.

Field Thick With Dead.

Reinforcements brought up by the Germans since the inauguration of the second phase of the battle on Wednesday are estimated here at 250,000 men, raising the total forces utilized by the assaulting force to 500,000. Estimates of losses show wide variations. In front of the village of Vaux alone, 4,000 German corpses were counted after the eighth unsuccessful attack. The Germans carried on the assault with great courage until the dead lay thick on the field. Then the officers, it is said, urged on the troops as they clambered over the corpses of their fallen comrades for the last assault.

The attack on Vaux began on the evening of March 2, after a furious shelling, and continued until the following night. Columns of Germans, advancing simultaneously from the north and northwest, tried to envelope the village. French artillery immediately opened a heavy fire, which separated the first wave of Germans from their reinforcements. Nevertheless, the fresh troops came on and observers saw plainly the tragic spectacle of lines of men plunging into that storm of steel and emerging thinned by half their strength. Some contingents lost six out of every ten men before even having fired a shot.

The survivors, undaunted, resolutely stormed the French trenches, and fought hand-to-hand in fierce melees at the outskirts of the village. The bitterest fighting was for possession of the road leading to Douaumont, the advantage of which was obvious. The Germans charged eight times there. The supreme effort was carried out by six regiments, advancing in close formation.

Infantry Finishes Work.

French machine guns wrought gruesome execution in the mass, and French infantry, held carefully under cover until the advancing force approached the trenches, leaped out to meet the onrush with cold steel. The fighting was finished in a few minutes. The Germans retired, leaving hundreds torn and tangled in the barbed wire defenses and thousands laid low by machine gun shots and bayonets.

As the battle proceeded, the strategy of General Petain, French commander at Verdun, is being compared more and more carefully with that of General Castelnau in the battle of Nancy. General Petain's withdrawal to the Douaumont plateau was like General Castelnau's withdrawal to the plateau of Amanvay from the heaviest blows of the adversary to a dominating position from which all efforts failed to dislodge him. French officers predict General Petain's strategy will have the same result, so that the Germans will be compelled to seek a decision elsewhere on the front.

Using Burning Liquid.

The Germans in their assaults are using several sorts of burning liquid projectors. One of these is in the form of a small tank, which is carried on the back, filled with a combustible liquid which seems to be mostly kerosene. Attached to the nozzle is

MOEWE RETURNS TO GERMAN PORT AFTER SUCCESSFUL CRUISE

FAMOUS RAIDER BRINGS IN 199 PRISONERS AND A MILLION MARKS IN GOLD BARS, TAKEN FROM VARIOUS SHIPS OF ENEMY ALLIES.

FIETEEN VESSELS REPORTED SUNK

Appam and Several Other Prizes Sent to Neutral Ports—Mine Laid That Accounted for King Edward VII. Commander and Members of Crew Receive Iron Cross for Exploits.

By the Associated Press.

Berlin, March 5, via London, 3:26 p. m.—Official announcement is made by the naval general staff today that the German commerce raider Moewe returned to a German port. She had on board 199 prisoners and 1,000,000 marks in gold bars.

The announcement says fifteen vessels were sunk by the Moewe, which also laid mines at several points. One of these mines, it is stated, sank the British battleship King Edward VII.

The announcement follows: "The naval general staff states that H. M. S. Moewe, commander Capt. Burggrave Count von Dohna-Schodden, after a successful cruise lasting several months, arrived today at some home port with four British officers, twenty-nine British marines and sailors, 166 men of crews of enemy steamers, among them 103 Indians, as prisoners, and one million marks in gold bars."

List of Prizes Taken.

"The vessel captured the following enemy steamers, the greater part of which were sunk and a small part of which were sent as prizes to neutral ports:

"The British steamers Corbridge, 2687 tons; Author, 3496 tons; trader, 2608 tons; Ariadne 2935 tons; Dromonby, 2627 tons; Farrington, 3461 tons; Clan MacTavish, 5816 tons; Appam, 7781 tons; Westburn, 3300 tons; Horace, 3333 tons; Flamenco, 4629 tons; Saxon Prince, 3471 tons.

"The British sailing vessel Edinburgh, 1473 tons.

"The Belgian steamer Luxembourg, 4322 tons.

"At several points on enemy coasts the Moewe also laid out mines, to which, among others, the battleship King Edward VII fell victim."

The Moewe's capture of two of the fifteen vessels listed by the German admiralty has not been reported previously. They are the Saxon Prince and the Maroni, both of which were engaged in the Trans-Atlantic service. The Saxon Prince, owned by the Prince line of New Castle, England, was last reported on sailing from Norfolk, February 12 for Manchester.

The Maroni sailed on February 15 from Bordeaux for New York. She was owned by the Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique of Havre.

The Moewe previously made famous by her exploits, has performed one of the most spectacular feats of the war on the sea by reaching a home port. The great German naval port of Wilhelmshaven is on the North Sea, which is patrolled with ceaseless vigilance by British warships.

Part of Gold from Appam.

At least part of the gold captured by the Moewe was taken from the Appam, which put in at Newport News several weeks ago under command of Lieutenant Berge with a German prize crew.

Announcement was made in London on January 16 that the British battleship King Edward VII had been blown up by a mine. The place at which the disaster occurred was not revealed.

It was said no lives were lost and only two men were injured. The Moewe first became famous when the Appam reached Newport News with a story which astonished the world. It was learned that the commerce raider had captured and sunk seven British vessels in the main line harbor of the South Africa and Europe, in addition to seizing the Appam, which had been almost given up for lost.

Operated Off Brazil.

The next heard of the German raider was on the arrival at Canary Islands late last month of the Westburn in charge of a German prize crew. It was then made known that the Moewe had sunk five more steamers off the coast of Brazil.

The Saxon Prince and Maroni probably were captured by the Moewe on her way back to Germany, as their sailing dates show they were both on the high seas toward the end of February.

The identity of the Moewe has not been established here definitely. Prisoners from captured ships said on

San Francisco, March 5.—The town of Wedderburn, Ore., was reported to-night in danger of sliding into the Rogue river and being carried out to sea on account of the heavy rains, according to a dispatch received here by the Chamber of Commerce. The inhabitants were reported fleeing from the town and taking refuge at Gold-bench and in the hills.

Turkish Women Try to Keep Husbands From Going to War

By the Associated Press.

Odessa, Russia, via London, March 5.—It is reported from Constantinople that Turkish women broke into railway yards where troop trains were about to leave, shouting protests against sending the men "to go to their deaths." They threw themselves on the rails in front of the trains. The authorities refrained from using force to remove them, these women, fearing a mutiny among the soldiers. The men were taken from the cars, but later were sent off secretly by night. Forty persons are reported to have been killed in the wreck of a passenger train on the Berlin-Constantinople railway near Nish, Serbia. Investigation showed that rails had been loosened, and many arrests have been made.

Working Boys' Sunday School Well Attended

About 150 boys, members of the Working Boys' Sunday school, enjoyed a good program at the regular meeting of the school yesterday at the Young Men's Christian association. The results of the large attendance is due to a membership contest which has been in progress for several weeks. The contest will last for a few more weeks, after which a membership banquet will be given. Mrs. Walter Rathel rendered a violin solo yesterday and a vocal duet was given by Misses Ruby and Verda Lee McLean.

an igniting apparatus. The liquid is projected by means of a hand pump. The radius of action of the oil depends upon the skill and the physical efforts of the man who projects it, but it is ordinarily from sixty to ninety feet.

Some French soldiers have been burned to a crisp by the flaming liquid.

Four Million Shells Fired.

Paris, March 5.—French artillery officers who took part in the battle of Verdun estimate that during the first four days of the struggle the Germans discharged 2,000,000 shells, most of them of heavy calibre. The number of projectiles fired by the French probably was as great.

Nothing like such an expenditure of munitions has been known before even in the Champagne attack. The whole theory of operations was to pulverize defenses at long range, drive out or kill defenders and then occupy the ground by massed rushes of infantry.

The principle of the defense was to search out heavy pieces of the adversary with equally heavy shells, withdraw from demolished first line works and then approach by attacking forces on the run, to catch them with multiplied enfilading artillery and machine gun fire. At times, this fire was suddenly suspended and the attackers engaged in hand-to-hand infantry clashes.

German Attack Repulsed.

By the Associated Press. Paris, March 5.—Fighting of great violence continues at Douaumont in the Verdun region the war office announced this afternoon. The Germans made a heavy attack against the French front along the line from the Haudremont wood to Douaumont fort. This assault, the statement says, was repulsed.

The announcement follows: "In Belgium south of Lombardville trenches of the enemy were demolished by our artillery."

"In the Argonne our batteries fired a great number of shots against the enemy's trenches and communicating lines in the region of La Hute Chevauchee and Houdremont, where a fire was continued. "In the region of Verdun the fighting was confined principally to the village of Douaumont, continuing into the night. At 6 o'clock the enemy, after a violent bombardment launched a heavy attack against our lines from the Haudremont wood to the fort of Douaumont. This attack was repulsed by our curtain of fire and by the firing of our infantry."

"During the night the bombardment was continued with a fair degree of intensity. The situation on the Meuse and to the west of Le Mort Homme and Cote de L'Or."

Germans Admit Withdrawal.

By the Associated Press. Berlin, March 5, Via London.—The battle at Verdun received only passing mention in the war office statement of today. It is said French artillery kept up a heavy fire, especially in the region of Douaumont, but there has been no further infantry fighting of great importance.

The statement follows: "Western front: Toward evening lively artillery fire of the enemy developed at several points on the front. Between the Meuse and the Moselle French artillery continued very active and around Douaumont, which at times was bombarded with great violence. There was no lively artillery fighting."

"To avoid unnecessary losses we evacuated yesterday the trenches we captured from the French on February 28 near the forest of Thiaucourt, northwest of Radonville (Lorraine) before the concentrated fire of the enemy against these positions."

"Eastern front: Near Hloukist an attack planned by the Russians, following some mining operations against our positions could not be carried out. Advances of reconnoitering parties of the enemy at other points were repulsed. "Balkan front: There is nothing to report."

Artillery Active at Loos.

By the Associated Press. London, March 5.—The official communication tonight says: "Grenade fighting continued last night in the craters northeast of Vermelles. Today the enemy artillery has been active about Loos and northeast of Ypres. "The situation on the Ypres-Comines canal is quiet, and our troops retain the ground gained there March 2."

Russian Casualties Heavy.

Obregon Does Not Fear Diaz Movement

By the Associated Press.

El Paso, Texas, March 5.—Gen. Alvaro Obregon, commander-in-chief of the military forces of the de facto government of Mexico, who arrived here last night, departed for Eagle Pass with his bride. He announced his intention of going immediately to Aguas Calientes, where he expects to confer with General Carranza.

During the day General Obregon conferred with Gen. Gabriel Gaviira in Juarez regarding the military situation in Chihuahua, particularly, it was said, with reference to plans for the capture of Francisco Villa. Later General Obregon said he expected that Villa would soon free across the international border.

The revolutionary movement headed by Felix Diaz, General Obregon characterized as a pantomime. He also said he had been consulting with military reports that President Cabrera of Guatemala was planning to assist Diaz against the Carranza government. The Diaz movement, he said, would fall through lack of leadership.

Louisiana Sugar Crop Is Very Short

By the Associated Press.

Washington, March 5.—Louisiana's cane sugar crop for 1915 amounted to 136,500 short tons, compared with a crop of 242,000 tons the year before. In announcing these figures tonight the department of agriculture said cool, wet weather retarded the growth of the cane in some sections and that considerable damage was done by a general storm in September. The cane crushed for sugar was 2,018,000 short tons in 1915 and 3,129,000 tons in 1914.

VOTE EXPECTED ON ARMED SHIP ISSUE IN HOUSE TUESDAY

related to the European war. He has given notice that he will address the senate. He will be required to be read by Senator Sutherland of Utah, a republican member of the foreign relations committee.

McCumber Also Wants Vote.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota also proposes to keep the warning issue before the senate as much as possible and he will endeavor to get a vote on his warning resolution which was tabled last week and reintroduced. Administration leaders, backed by republicans who support the president in this crisis, are in no mind now to permit another vote on the resolution and plan to force it to the senate calendar probably to remain for the rest of the session.

Tomorrow the senate will resume debate on the Shields water power bill against which conservation champions have been conducting a persistent fight for several weeks. A vote on the bill is expected within a few days, after which the committee has agreed that the Tillman government armor plant bill shall be taken up. After that is disposed of the first of the national preparedness measures, the senate army reorganization bill, will be ready for consideration, having been introduced Saturday by Senator Chamberlain.

Other matters pending in the senate are Senator Robinson's proposal for an investigation of the aviation service of the army and the Brandeis inquiry which is expected will close this week.

What course the regular business of the house will take this week depends largely on the disposition of the warning resolution controversy. Thursday will be devoted to the resolution and if it is put over from Tuesday, but otherwise Majority Leader Kitchin will call up the free sugar bill.

Coroner's Inquest on Jajeshi Killing to Be Held Tuesday

By the Associated Press.

St. Paul, March 5.—A coroner's inquest into the death of the Rev. Henry Jajeshi, who was shot and killed last night at St. Casimir's Polish Catholic church by Mrs. Anisla Dudeke, a Minneapolis woman, will be held Tuesday, it was stated tonight. In her cell at the central police station the woman, who is 38 years old, pleaded for permission to go home to her husband and seven children. She was glad, she said, that she had killed Father Jajeshi, because he had wronged her.

Mobile Mardi Gras Carnival Opened

By the Associated Press.

Mobile, Ala., March 5.—Gov. Charles Henderson of Alabama formally inaugurated Mobile's eighty-sixth Mardi Gras carnival tonight when he threw a switch which transformed Bienville Square into a flood of red, white and blue illumination intended as a patriotic demonstration in endorsement of President Wilson's preparedness program. Above the illumination old glory fluttered while numerous "fog horns" hidden in the evergreens sounded a warning of the danger of an aerial attack.

Thousands of persons participated in the demonstration. The United States torpedo boat destroyer Norden and Terry arrived today to participate in the celebration.

MEXICAN WHO LED MURDER OF AMERICANS FACES FIRING SQUAD

The execution of Sergeant Leonardo Anzac

Sergeant Leonardo Anzac, one of the leaders of the band of Villistas who murdered over a score of Americans in cold blood, had only a short time to live after he was captured by the Carranza forces. This picture was taken a fraction of a second after the bullet sped to the Mexican's heart. He refused to have his eyes bandaged. The convulsive movement of his arms after the bullet struck him is plainly shown.

School of Fish Goes With Ship

Special To The Morning News.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., March 5.—Hounded by a school of blue fish that had followed her 2500 miles from New York, the U. S. S. "Tennessee" put into Port-au-Prince, Haiti, and unloaded a company of United States marine corps recruits last week, according to a letter received by Sergeant Frank Stubbe of the local recruiting station of the marine corps. "The waves rolled high," one of the recruits wrote Stubbe, "and, for the first time in my life I realized the bigness of the ocean, the smallness of me, and the minor part I could play in the great scheme of things. Is there a life beyond death, I asked myself? If not, what is the purpose of my being? Why was I ever born? Pondering over this stupendous question, I staggered to the rail, and, after awhile, was forced to give the whole thing up—together with some trifles I had eaten for breakfast. As I let go my feelings, a big blue fish jumped up out of the water and gazed hungrily into my beautiful blue eyes. He was a handsome fellow and I knew that I'd remember him if I ever saw him again. And sure enough, five days later, as we were entering the harbor of Port-au-Prince, and while I was again meditating on the philosophy of life, that same blue fish jumped out of the water as if to devour my human form. It seems that a school of them followed us all the way down to Haiti because of the recruits aboard who had never before been to sea."

"Some piscatorial embroidery," was Stubbe's comment on the letter.

Strike on Mexican Railway.

By the Associated Press. Terreon, Mexico, March 5.—Local employees of the Mexican National railways struck today for higher wages and pay in silver. The strike partially paralyzed traffic at this important junction point, which is connected with the east coast, Monterey and Eagle Pass. The strike, it is understood, includes Chihuahua City, to which point a number of engines were sent several days ago to take places of the strikers.

Only one train has left here since Saturday. That was a special which carried a number of foreign women and 400 tons of cotton seed to be exchanged for corn and other foodstuffs under government guarantee.

Hartford Strikes Settled.

By the Associated Press. Hartford, Conn., March 5.—Nine strikes of machinists which have been in progress here for many months were settled tonight, according to an announcement from the executive committee of the local machinists' organization. About 4,900 men were involved.

It was said unofficially that none of the demands of the men, which included increased pay, was granted.

Fortunes for Paintings.

American millionaires still pay twenty-five times as much for pictures painted by dead European masters as they will pay for the best work of the ablest living American artists.

COTTON FUTURES BILL FAVORED BY OUSLEY

DIRECTOR OF A. & M. EXTENSION WORK SEES ADVANTAGES IN NEW MEASURE.

Permitting Hedging in Foreign Markets Is One of the Best Features.

Special to the Morning News.

College Station, March 5.—I have been asked for my opinion of the pending cotton futures bill, which has been favorably reported by the house committee on agriculture, to take the place of the present statute which has been declared unconstitutional. As the subject is one of deep and vital interest to cotton growers, I take the liberty of here summarizing the views I have expressed to several inquirers.

The pending bill differs from the other mainly in Section 11, which is so amended as to permit American exporters to "hedge" in foreign markets. The amendment vests discretion in the secretary of agriculture to recognize "substantial" compliance, instead of literal compliance, by foreign exchanges with the rules of the department fixing grades, standards and methods of trading. The original bill expressed by the most intelligent of our cotton merchants who have both American and English connections that Liverpool will be able to satisfy the secretary with substantial compliance.

There is an addition to the law, Section 11A, which undertakes to subject foreigners who deal on our exchanges to the same rules of the department as our own people. Whether that can be done in practice remains to be demonstrated, but the purpose is good, and I am hopeful that the effort will succeed. In any case, the bill permits foreign hedging, and that is the most important point. I am fully satisfied that the old law has cost us the export of at least 1,000,000 bales by American exporters this season. By so much as these American exporters are hindered in their dealings, by so much was the market deprived of a stimulating factor.

The new bill maintains all the important reforms effected by the old act and is free from its impracticable and more or less hurtful requirements. Hence it is greatly to be desired, and I hope our people will communicate with their members of congress and ask them to give careful attention to the subject. CLARENCE OUSLEY.

Governor Ferguson Talks at A. & M. on Right Education

Special to the Morning News.

College Station, March 5.—The value of practical or result getting instruction was stressed by Gov. James E. Ferguson in a brief address before the faculty of the A. & M. college here tonight. Governor Ferguson arrived here this afternoon for a brief visit with President Bizzell. Governor Ferguson has some registered cattle here in inclosure against the Texas fever.

"What will you college men be doing four years from now? What will you do the first year, the second year, the third year after you leave college? Education is worth while only in so far as it fits men to live and to serve," said Governor Ferguson, in his talk tonight.

Theory is fine, but lay heavy stress on practical instruction," he told the faculty. The governor also stressed the necessity for preparedness in line with his Navasota speech. The danger for invasion from the southwest is not to be treated lightly, he said.

Total estimated attendance at 5,554 half day sessions..... 1,756,000

Special to the Morning News.

San Francisco, Cal., March 5.—"The Panama-Pacific International Exposition had the greatest congress program ever assembled in the history of the world," President Charles C. Moore of the exposition said today. "It has been highly gratifying to the directors of the exposition to realize that, notwithstanding San Francisco's handicap of distance from the great centers of the exposition, the extra time and expense necessary to reach the city from eastern points there were more than twice as many congresses and conventions in the exposition series of 1915 as met at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis in 1904 and nearly as many as met at the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893."

"The 928 conventions in the exposition series were largely responsible for the enormous attendance and for the very satisfactory financial showing that has been made. Aside, however, from the great convention attendance, we are very sure that the many congress programs will make a permanent contribution to the world's knowledge on all problems of the day. In no one thing was the exposition more international than in its congresses. Notwithstanding the war, sixty-one international gatherings were held, while foreign delegates attended a much greater number of meetings."

"No exposition ever held made such preparations to care for congresses and conventions as did the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. At one time it was freely predicted that the exposition memorial auditorium would be entirely too large. As a matter of fact, it was crowded to its full capacity for weeks. It is an especially happy thing that the auditorium is left to San Francisco as a permanent memorial not only of the exposition but of the 1915 congress program."

New World's Record Set.

The final report of James A. Barr, director of congresses of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition shows that 928 congresses and conventions were held in or near San Francisco during the exposition period. This establishes a new world's record for conventions. The number of conventions held during the exposition period was more than double the number held at the St. Louis exposition and nearly five times as many as the number held at the Chicago exposition.

Seldom a day passes without its convention, while as many as forty conventions were in session on the same day. The attendance ranged from twenty-five to about fifteen thousand. There was an average of ten convention sessions daily for the 288 days of the exposition period. The 928 gatherings held in or near San Francisco were in session for a total of 2,927 days, representing a period of eight days. It is estimated that the 5,554 half day sessions were attended by a total of 1,756,000 people.

Of the 928 conventions scheduled, sixty-one were held by national organizations, ninety-four by Pacific coast organizations and 232 by California organizations. The international congresses of from thirty-one foreign nations; the education was attended by delegates from twenty-nine foreign nations with a smaller number of foreign delegates attending many other meetings.

Data as to Congresses.
Seventeen conventions met in February, the opening month of the exposition. From February the number meeting each month gradually increased until August, the month of the maximum convention attendance. The following shows the number of congresses, conferences and conventions held during each month of the exposition period:

Through February..... 17
March..... 21
April..... 27
May..... 64
June..... 77
July..... 146
August..... 277
September..... 198
October..... 95
November..... 62
December..... 4

Total..... 928
Nearly four years were given by Director Barr and staff to working out the entire convention program. Practically all district, state, Pacific coast, national and international organizations were invited to hold their 1915 meetings in San Francisco or to send special delegates to congresses or conventions in which their members would be interested. Special invitations were sent to 6,200 organizations. The enormous correspondence involved sending out a total of 725,000 letters. The following summarizes the various types of congresses, conferences and conventions held under the general auspices of the exposition:

1. International congresses organized by national or international organizations.

2. Congresses and conferences organized by local or state committees.

3. Conventions or conferences or district, state, Pacific coast, national and international organizations.

4. Special conventions or conferences or organizations holding regular sessions elsewhere than San Francisco or California.

Present Day Problems.

As the exposition was contemporaneous rather than historical, the congress program was based almost entirely on present day problems. It is certain that the many notable congress programs will make a permanent contribution to the world's knowledge. The following summary will give a general idea of the wide diversity of interests represented by the 928 gatherings held:

MARLIN PAYS TRIBUTE TO W. M. GUNNELL

FUNERAL SERVICES CONDUCTED
BY BISHOP E. D. MOUZON OF DALLAS.

Cortege Over Half a Mile Long and Floral Offerings Are Exceptional.

Special to the Morning News.

Marlin, March 5.—The funeral this afternoon of W. M. Gunnell, who died Friday night, was one of the largest ever held in Marlin. The services were conducted by Bishop E. D. Mouzon of the Methodist church, assisted by Rev. W. R. Bryan of the Marlin Methodist church, and by Rev. W. R. Hall, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Cameron. When the procession left the Gunnell home, carriages and autos fell in line for a distance of over half a mile. The floral offerings were exceptional, and florists from Waco were present in charge of that feature.

Marlin paid tribute to W. M. Gunnell this afternoon as one of the best men who ever lived in this community, as he was a leader in business, civic and church affairs. He was known to be the friend of the poor and rich, but was a man of retiring disposition, who headed various enterprises only under pressure.

Band Concert Given at Files Valley

Special to the Morning News.

Itasca, March 5.—Files Valley was the scene of the third concert of the Itasca Board of Trade and Lawless Park band in their rounds of the rural school houses Thursday night. A crowded house greeted them. Short talks were made by Pat E. Hooks and Secretary Butts of the Board of Trade, and by Hubert Westberry of Files. A box supper was also held and the school realized sufficient money to continue for another month. The band concerts, which will be continued until every school in the territory is visited, are proving a splendid means of bringing farmers and business men together in an understanding that their interests are identical.

"Baby Health Is Texas' Wealth"

Slogan of Baby Week Campaign

Save 300,000
Babies a Year
Is High Goal

Poverty, Ignorance and Disease Chief Contributors to Astounding Mortality of Infants.

The saving of 300,000 babies whose lives are needlessly shuffled out every year in the United States is the aim of leaders in the nation-wide Better Baby Week to be held March 4 to 11.

More than 400 communities have laid plans for baby week, aided by the children's bureau of the United States department of labor. During baby week the needs of children will be so presented that all parents in these communities will realize these needs and will want to give their children the best possible care. They will know that this is their privilege, as well as their obligation.

The men and women behind this movement are trying to do away with the old belief that the rate of mortality among children who had not reached the first anniversary of their birth was a wise dispensation of nature intended to prevent children with a weak constitution from becoming too plentiful.

In its place they are trying to make mothers realize that a great infant mortality is a national disaster.

Poverty, ignorance and disease are the three chief causes of the annual death toll among babies—and of these ignorance perhaps is most directly responsible for the waste of life.

The benefits from baby week are of supreme importance. The arousing of the community spirit in Kansas City resulted in a town factory inspector; in Louisville, in a housing inspector; in Northampton, in a new $25,000 school in a congested district; and in Easthampton, in increased sewer connections. But perhaps the greatest benefit is the effect on families, particularly on the older children, who adopt a different attitude toward the baby. "We do this for our baby since we went to the baby exhibit," is the remark often heard by school teachers and visiting nurses. "The baby should have his bath this way," neighbors and visitors are told by children who have seen child welfare exhibits.

Mothers come to the realization that they are not only rearing their own babies, but perhaps future celebrities; that their responsibility is great, and that their child is valuable to the country. They realize, too, that the health of the baby and its future well-being depends upon proper feeding, bathing and clothing. No longer are the little folks indulged with indigestible foods, for "it isn't good for the baby," says the older child. "Miss Nurse at the baby station says baby shouldn't eat it; his milk should be cold and clean, and his bed always should be put to air in the daytime, so he can sleep without crying at night."

So, through the change in attitude of parents and the change in the attitude of the community, baby week is going to be one of the greatest weeks for popular education. Its results will last as long as there are mothers and fathers and babies.

Authorities agree that if children were well born and then well cared for, the infant mortality rate would be practically negligible.

In the earliest months of the baby's life, breast feeding appears to be the only safe method, for of the 300,000 babies who annually die in this country, 85 per cent are artificially fed.

Mothers must also be made to realize the deadliness of dirt; of the necessity of cleanliness where the baby's food is concerned, especially in the matter of milk.

If a woman takes proper care of her health before her baby is born the chances are that the baby will be born strong and healthy.

Local Observance National Baby Week to Begin Today With Community Meetings

The practical observance of National Baby Week will begin in Waco today, when the first of three community meetings having for their aim the conservation of the lives of the babies of the city will be held at the Bell's Hill school at 3:30. This program will be repeated in the Methodist church at Edgefield tomorrow afternoon and in the East Waco school Wednesday afternoon at the same hour. The three places named were selected by the committee from the City Federation of Women's clubs, of which Miss Roberta Wright is chairman, with the aim of reaching the larger number of people to accomplish the most good within the short time of the campaign.

At each of the community meetings a prominent physician of the city will address the mothers on proper care of the baby during the first year of its life, when statistics show the greatest mortality is recorded. Instructions as to the proper care of the mother before the birth of the baby will also be given. Instructions as to the care of eyes, ears, nose and throat will be given by a specialist.

Several pastors of the city responded to the request of the City Federation of Women's clubs by speaking on a subject allied with the National Baby Week movement yesterday. Announcement of the community meetings were made by all pastors, and members of the congregations were urged to co-operate in the movement.

In line with the Better Baby Week the promotion exercises of the beginners' department of the First Baptist Sunday school was held yesterday morning. The regular Sunday school was attended by 573 people and between 600 and 700 were present at the special exercises. The following program was carried out:

Song, primary and beginners' department, directed by Miss Lucile Goode and Mrs. S. R. Teague.

Prayer for the cradle role department by the pastor.

Miss Roberta Wright, chairman of the local committee in charge of the Better Baby Week observance in this city, was one of the visitors at the exercises. Following the exercises the pastor, Dr. D. M. Dawson, preached on "The Child in the Midst."

Baby Rallies Suggested by Home Bureau

Leaders in All Communities of State
Urged to Take First Steps—Bulletins from State University.

All indications denote a real appreciation of the fact that "Baby health is Texas wealth" among alert communities of this state, and quiet preparations are being made in hundreds of small towns for participation in the Baby Week program declared to be in effect March 4 to 11, by the children's bureau of the department of labor.

The divisions of home and child welfare of the University of Texas have been besieged with requests for information concerning the program for one-day observance of Baby Week in small communities, and in response to this demand the following program is suggested as a successful model used in many small towns.

As a prelude to the program the baby welfare experts give out the following statement:

Every community should observe the nationwide Baby Week March 4-11 1916. Get the local newspapers interested, solicit the co-operation of the minister and have him give a sermon on the "Little Child," have the

THE CHILD'S CREED.

"Every child has the inalienable right to be born free from disease, free from deformity and with pure blood in his veins and arteries. "Every child has the inalienable right to be loved, to have its individuality respected, to be trained wisely in mind, body and soul, to be protected from disease, from evil influences and evil persons, and to have a fair chance in life. In a word, to be brought up in the fear and admonition of the Lord."

schools held a morning exercise on this subject, and interest the entire community in holding a baby rally.

Suggested Program.

The following program is suggested for the rally:

"My Old Kentucky Home,"

Trayer, ending with the Child's Creed.

"The Better Babies Movement and What It Means," by some mother.

Exercises by the children (see suggestions below).

Song, "Lullaby."

"Important of Clean Milk to Children," by local health officer.

"How to Feed Little Children," by physician or domestic economy teacher.

Poem, "The Remorseful Cakes," by Eugene Field (recitation).

Song, "Sweet and Low."

The small children may act out the following slogan, "Baby health is Texas wealth." For this exercise five children are needed. Each child has a large cardboard word, the first being

WHY MOTHERS SHOULD NURSE THEIR BABIES

Breast milk is always ready and is never sour.

Breast milk does not have to be prepared and measured.

It is nature's method and was intended for your baby.

It will make your baby strong and healthy.

It is absolutely free from germs and dirt.

It is the only perfect food for the young baby.

Your baby will have the best chance of living if it is breast fed.

"Baby," the second "Health," the third "is," and so on through the slogan. As each child appears he gives the lines appropriate to his word, holding his card as he talks. After all the children have given their individual lines, the group recites in chorus, "Baby health is Texas wealth." Verses for this act and other appropriate poems will be furnished by home economists department of University of Texas upon application.

As an aid in the preparation of the program the divisions of home and child welfare of the University of Texas will gladly supply the following bulletin or circulars which will be found helpful:

"Suggestions for Infant Feeding," No. 375.

"Food for Growing Children," No. 543.

"The Problem of the School Lunch," Nos. 162, 338 and 339.

"Pure Milk and How to Get It," circular.

"Things Worth While for the Baby," circular.

"Baby Welfare Exhibit," circular.

"How to Feed the Family for Health and Efficiency," No. 68.

"Better Babies on Texas Farms," pamphlet.

"Why Register Births and Report Cases of Sickness," circular.

All requests for these circulars and bulletins should be addressed to the department of extension of the University of Texas at Austin.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Central Drug Co., of Detroit, Mich., says: "We consider your Castoria in a class distinct from patent medicines and commend it."

Christy Drug Stores, of Pittsburg, Pa., say: "We have sold your Castoria for so many years with such satisfactory results that we cannot refrain from saying a good word for it when we get a chance."

Jacob Bros., of Philadelphia, Pa., say: "We take pleasure in recommending Fletcher's Castoria as one of the oldest and best of the preparations of the kind upon the market."

Hess & McCann, of Kansas City, Mo., say: "Your Castoria always gives satisfaction. We have no substitute for it and only sell 'The Kind You Have Always Bought,' the original."

The Voegell Bros., of Minneapolis, Minn., say: "We wish to say that we have at all times a large demand for Fletcher's Castoria at all of our three stores and that it gives universal satisfaction to our trade."

Polk Miller Drug Co., of Richmond, Va., says: "Your Castoria is one of the most satisfactory preparations we have ever handled. It seems to satisfy completely the public demand for such an article and is steadily creating a growing sale by its merit."

P. A. Caplan, of New Orleans, La., says: "We handle every good home remedy demanded by the public and while our shelves are thoroughly equipped with the best of drugs and proprietary articles, there are few if any which have the unceasing sale that your Castoria has."

M. C. Dow, of Cincinnati, Ohio, says: "When people in increasing numbers purchase a remedy and continue buying it for years; when it passes the fad or experimental stage and becomes a household necessity, then it can be said its worth has been firmly established. We can and do gladly offer this kind of commendation to Fletcher's Castoria."

DR. WRIGHT TALKS ON CHURCH AT EASE

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
CAPACITY TAXED AT RE-VIVAL SERVICES.

At the First Presbyterian church last night, something over a hundred people were unable to find entrance to hear Dr. Frank Hall Wright, who is conducting a series of revival meetings. The topic begun last night and to be continued Monday evening at 7:30 is "Conditions of Discipleship." He handled his subject in his usual eloquent and forceful style.

Dr. Wright and Dr. Caldwell sang a duet.

Prayer meetings will be held by the ladies at 10 o'clock this morning at the following addresses: 1921 North Sixth, 2212 Sanger and 1216 Washington street.

This afternoon at 3:15 Dr. Wright will have for his topic, "Satan," at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountains of Samaria, which are named chief of the nations."

He said in part:

"A church is at ease in Zion when she is satisfied with her religion and social relations. I tell you, when a church is satisfied with her religion and social condition that church is at ease in Zion. A man may be a big church worker and a big giver to the church and yet be lost. The church should never be satisfied; its mission is to be eternally reaching out for souls to save."

The text is pronounced against individuals as well as the church as a whole.

God has marked those who are to be saved from the great tribulation, the true preservers of the church and its work; and he also marks those who are neglectful, hypocrites, and each shall have its proper reward.

Church Membership Not All Necessary.

"Some people take great courage from the fact that they have long been members of the church, but the trouble is that many of Zion have been only church members. It is their fruit that speaks, and counts, and not their pretensions. God wants your intellect, your affections, your will power. He wants you. The man who is satisfied with his formal religion is at ease in Zion."

"God had rather have you against him than merely lukewarm in his service. He says, 'I would ye were cold in speaking of those who are neither hot nor cold. He wants you to be for him, but if you will not be for him he had rather you would be against him.'"

God marks those professing Christians who devote all of their time to their own business and pleasure and neglect his work. You will never be saved unless you seek salvation with all of your heart and soul. You will never be saved with the weights of all your personal passions, love of pleasure, dragging you back from true service to God."

"A church is at ease in Zion when she joins hands with the vanities of the world. We have to use some hard words in preaching. I have to use some words in preaching that I do not use in private conversation; but I use them because I have to. I have to announce sin and describe the punishments which it brings. Hell is not a pleasant word or thought, but it is the sure abode of those who persist in sin. 'Except ye repent ye shall all perish.'"

Christ Demands Service.

"You are at ease in Zion when you turn aside from the imperative work of the church for social pleasure. If you are of that character you are a detriment to this church or to any church to which you belong. Your own flesh and blood may be in danger of death and hell. Here we are doing our utmost to lead them to salvation; and if you fail to do your part, what to you? He no wonder that children are so often lost when their parents are so little concerned in their souls' salvation."

"The preacher is at ease in Zion when he is content to preach two sermons on Sunday, and do nothing more for the salvation of souls. Christ says, to be ware when all men speak well of you. The minister who simply tries to please, and to preach such sermons as his flock want to hear, is an unfaithful servant to Christ. He is a moral coward. 'Cursed be he that doth the work of the Lord negligently.' It is no light thing to talk to a man about his spiritual relations; but God requires it of us; he requires it of every true follower of Jesus. A minister must be faithful and God's curse is on him if he fails."

Your minister knows all about you; he knows the skeletons in your closets, and the burden of your soul is on him more perhaps than you think. And his heart pains him when he sees you neglecting the work of Christ and going off after every vanity of the world. My friends, are we so blinded as to think that we will live forever? What shall it profit a man if he gains the whole world and loses his own soul? I do not know you want to hear, is an unfaithful servant to Christ. He is a moral coward. 'Cursed be he that doth the work of the Lord negligently.' It is no light thing to talk to a man about his spiritual relations; but God requires it of us; he requires it of every true follower of Jesus. A minister must be faithful and God's curse is on him if he fails."

"After the sermon Dr. Wright sang 'The Song of a Lost Soul.'"

There were a number of professions at both morning and evening services Sunday.

Mission Conference Subject of Address by Judge M. Brown

Judge Marvin Brown of Fort Worth delivered an address in the Y. M. C. A. lobby yesterday afternoon in the interest of the State Laymen's Missionary conference to be held in Fort Worth March 8 to 12. The work of the laymen in connection with missions was discussed by Judge Brown, who stressed the importance of attendance at the Fort Worth conference.

By the Associated Press.

New Orleans, La., March 5.—W. C. Barton, United States engineer in Northern Louisiana, tonight reported that the water was falling both inside and outside the break in the Mississippi river embankment near Newellton and expressed the opinion that the overflow, which now covers the lowlands of Texas, Concordia and adjoining parishes, will subside in time to permit the regular planting of spring crops.

Mr. Barton estimated that within two weeks the entire line of levees in the Texas district will be out of danger. No weak spots were reported today.

The river here fell two-tenths of a foot since last night to a stage of 20.8 feet. At Vicksburg the stage tonight was 50.3, a fall of four-tenths in 24 hours; Natchez 51.7 feet, a fall of two-tenths of a foot, and Baton Rouge 42.5 feet, stationary.

WOMEN WORKING FOR UNCLE SAM ARE BEHIND "BABY WEEK"

Uncle Sam is growing more and more to see the importance of protecting his babies and elaborate plans have been laid by the government for the nation's first "Baby Week," March 4 to 11. For some years through the federal children's bureau, a special study has been made of the needs of babies. The women who have led in this work and who are behind "Baby Week" are: Miss Julia C. Lathrop, head of the children's bureau; Mrs. Max West, editor of "The Care of Children," a pamphlet issued by the bureau; Dr. Grace L. Meggs, in charge of children's hygiene, and Mrs. Etta R. Goodwin, who is co-operating with the Federation of Women's Clubs.

NEGROES PLAN TO BEAUTIFY HOMES

MASS MEETING AT TABORIAN PARK ADDRESSED BY NUMBER OF WHITE PEOPLE.

PRIZES OFFERED IN CONTEST

Greatest Improvement in Home Conditions and in School Grounds to Be Rewarded.

For the purpose of creating interest in a clean-up campaign which was inaugurated Friday by the negroes, a mass meeting was held yesterday afternoon at the Taborian park under the auspices of the Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Several talks were made by both white and negro citizens. The spirit at the meeting showed that the negro citizens were anxious to help uplift their race and wanted the co-operation of the white people. Questions that deal with problems that confront the negro race were discussed.

It was announced by H. R. Hines, negro, president of the association, that junior civic leagues had been organized among the children of the negro schools and that prizes would be given to the members of these leagues that could present the cleanest yard at the close of the clean-up campaign which will last through Saturday. The campaign will be further explained to the children of the negro schools today.

The association had for its guests and speakers Miss Ethel Jackson, daughter of the late J. M. Jackson, public health nurse, Miss Kate Friend, secretary of the Waco Branch of the Y. W. C. A., Senator A. R. McCollum and J. W. Hester, city sanitary inspector.

Public Nurse Is Speaker.
Miss Jackson in her address told the audience that they should not feel as if they should wait to be helped and not help their fellow men. She said that the stronger members of the race should help the weaker members in the same manner that the strong members of the white race should help the weaker ones. She pointed out the work that could be accomplished and assured the negroes that the white people were ready to lend a helping hand.

Miss Edwards' talk was especially directed to the children that were present. She told them that they were the men and the women of tomorrow and that they should start now to prepare to make their race a better race and have a stronger citizenship in the future. In this manner she said the degradation of the negro race should be eliminated.

That the negro race had taken rapid strides in progressive times since it became free, making an unequalled record in the history of the world, was declared by Senator McCollum in his address. He recalled the negro as held in bondage and with the period of half a century how he has become a land owner and to a certain extent self-governing.

Practical Work Suggested.
Practical things that the negro could do in assisting in the clean-up campaign were pointed out by Miss Friend. She told the members of the audience that they should be sanitary and not neglect the smaller things toward accomplishing this. Screened homes, more sunshine and fresh air, were pointed out by her as means of improving the conditions that exist in many of the homes. Miss Friend emphasized that there was work for the negroes to accomplish in their districts, especially looking forward to civic improvement, one of which she especially referred to was the improvement of the section through which runs the creek, stating that this section could be converted into a pretty park through the co-operation of a land negro citizenship. She said in the plans for civic improvements the work should be divided into two divisions, one to improve the negro in order to improve the citizenship, and the other to work toward improving the sanitary conditions that are not what they should be in many cases.

J. H. Strong, president of the Central Texas Baptist academy, was the first negro to take the floor. He said the movement that had been started by the negroes to benefit and uplift their race was not a denominational project, but was for everybody. He said that it not only should result in benefiting the negro race, but that the white people would also reap the benefits.

Mrs. R. H. Hines, negro, told of the benefits that would be derived from the clean-up campaign. She said that the campaign not only should result in better sanitary conditions, prettier homes and garden spots, but that it should uplift the moral life of the negro. She said that the movement would bring much to the race, as no race is higher than its ideals.

Negroes Should Help Themselves.
E. B. Evans, negro, in his talk said that if the negroes wanted the city government to assist them they should first help themselves. He said that after the city found they were willing and anxious to have clean streets and sidewalks the city would feel more like helping maintain first-class streets and keeping them well sprinkled, etc.

That keeping the body clean was essential if the negro race should be uplifted was declared by Mrs. L. L. Smith, negro, in her talk. She said she hoped the citizens not only would turn their attention toward concrete improvements, but that they would also better their lives in a spiritual way, thereby helping the race in a most impressive way.

C. W. Rawlings, negro, talked on the importance of education, saying the race to be self-governing, to teach them to work and to make them worthy for service. He told of the importance of clean literature, clean minds and clean associates.

W. D. Cain, the last negro to speak, pointed out the importance of the race co-operating in the clean-up campaign and urged that all take an active part in it.

First Day of Sunday Movies Brings Action by Opponents

Committee of Seven Named at Mass Meeting Files Charges Against Proprietors of Five Picture Theatres—Declare Will Force Trial on Every Sunday Opening.

The first day of Sunday operation by moving picture shows under the initiative of the evangelists, which election February 15 revealed that the fight against Sunday movies had not been dropped by those who comprise the holding of the election. The five theatres, the Hippodrome, the Rex, the Crystal, the Queen and the Alamo, which opened yesterday under the ordinance, were visited by a committee of seven appointed at a mass meeting held in the Fifth Street Methodist church at 3 o'clock. Affidavits charging violation of the Sunday laws of the state were later filed with County Attorney John B. McNamara, according to the statement last night by Lee H. Richards, spokesman for the committee.

The mass meeting yesterday afternoon was called by F. M. Maxwell, chairman of the organization formed to contest holding the initiative election. The committee appointed to visit the picture shows and obtain evidence of operation on Sunday was composed of Sam Smith, chairman; Lee H. Richards, R. G. Wright, A. C. Jones, William Lambdin, C. C. Edwards and C. B. Harman. Mr. Richards was designated spokesman for the committee to serve notice on proprietors that complaints would be filed against them. The committee obtained the names of other persons in the theatres at the time of their visit, and these will be summoned as witnesses, according to Mr. Richards.

The committee also visited the sheriff's office to inquire whether the department would make prosecutions in the future of their own accord. The inquiry was delivered to Deputy Sheriff Lee Jenkins. In the absence of Sheriff Fleming, Mr. Richards stated that the committee would, if necessary, file complaints against each proprietor each Sunday of operation.

Approval of Sunday moving picture shows was demonstrated by the crowds in attendance at each of the five theatres yesterday, according to the proprietors.

Noted Lecturer on Health Subjects Is to Speak Tonight

Dr. C. L. Wells of Detroit, Mich., well known as a health evangelist, will deliver a free address to men only at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock tonight and tomorrow night at the Fifth Street Methodist church and Wednesday night at the First Baptist church.

He will deliver a public lecture to both men and women on "Get Well and Stay Well Through the Use of Nature's Remedies—Air, Water and Proper Food and Exercise." There will be no collection and no medicines offered for sale. Dr. Wells comes highly recommended by ministers and educators from many sections of the country. He was formerly an instructor in Detroit university.

North Texas Weather Goes from Freezing to New Warm Record

By the Associated Press.
Dallas, March 5.—With an average temperature of 82 degrees, a rise from freezing weather Saturday morning, North Texas today experienced the warmest weather on record for the season, according to local weather bureau records. The temperature at Dallas was 32 at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, and had risen to 86 at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Points in the extreme northern section of the state reported 82, while other sections recorded a corresponding rise. The warmest place was Gainesville, the maximum there being reported as 95.

The hot wave is due to an exceptionally low barometer over the Missouri valley, according to J. L. Cline, local forecaster.

Five Additions to Turner St. Church Result of Revival

Five additions to the church by baptism were reported yesterday as results of the revival being conducted at the Turner Street Baptist church by Rev. W. B. Holland of McGregor. The increasing interest has caused the decision to continue the revival another week. Rev. Mr. Holland to preach each day at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

At the services tonight the preacher's subject will be "The Eternal Punishment of the Wicked." Mrs. Kate Harrison will sing.

Hints on Eyesight

Eyes strain is one of the most common causes for headaches and many other nerve troubles. Defective eyes can, and often do, give clear vision by straining.

Glasses are needed not to increase the distinctness of vision, but to relieve the strain which is so frequently the cause of headache, etc.

Slight testing often reveals the causes for headaches, and when these troubles are produced by eye strain, properly fitted glasses will remove the cause. We test eyesight and advise without charge.

Miss Duncan Recital Set for Tonight

Tonight at 8:15 is the time set for the voice recital of Miss Beulah Duncan, which eagerly-looked-for occasion has been widely and favorably talked of, insuring a large audience, as well as an appreciative one.

The recital is to be in the large and conveniently arranged auditorium of the Central Christian church, while Miss Duncan is presented by the Euterpean club, of which she is so popular a member. In this connection it is not improper to state that the nominating committee of the Euterpeans has decided upon Miss Duncan as the next president of that organization, and it is but natural that they feel keen interest in the recital tonight of their forthcoming president. Many other personal and musical friends in Waco and the nearby towns will avail themselves of the splendid opportunity to hear this recital tonight, given, as it is, by one of the admittedly best sopranos of the southwest, and one who has reached her present enviable position through continuous study and effort which have extended over years.

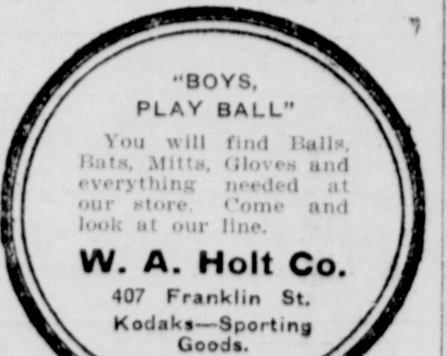

F. Arthur Johnson, pianist, and Anton Navratil, violinist, will add their full quota to the evening's program, the whole of which will bring a grand finale to the season's musical functions, just before the Lenten days are ushered in.

A WACO MAN'S EXPERIENCE

Results Tell the Tale.
Can you doubt the evidence of this Waco citizen?

Read this:
O. C. Lyon, clerk, Hotel Adams residing at Fourth and Austin Sts. Waco, says: "I was suddenly attacked with kidney complaint. My occupation at that time required a great deal of standing and heavy work and I blamed the trouble to that. My back got so lame and painful I couldn't attend to my work, for any quick movement meant painful twinges through my body. My kidney secretions were unnatural and I was pretty well run down in health. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Morrison's drug store and they soon fixed me up in good shape. I have never had a return attack."

Printers Want County's Work Done at Home

At a well attended meeting yesterday afternoon of Waco Typographical union, which has a membership of about seventy-five, considerable discussion was had and further indorsement given the work begun by the Waco Central Labor council to have official county printing and other contract work given to McLennan county bidders, who are competent to do practically all the work now going to distant parts of the state and even out of the state.

The Central Labor council is composed of representatives from all the labor unions in Waco. Their campaign, begun some thirty days ago, is meeting with encouragement from other parts of the county, as well as keeping money at home where possible. It is claimed that the county commissioners have power under the law to award contracts to home bidders where there is not a great difference between home and foreign bidders.
